Ladies & Gentlemen – Welcome to our fourth edition of the League of Leading Ladies Conference!

Our conference was originally set up as with an ambitious goal: to create a unique and international club of thinkers who gather together at least once a year to share wisdom, inspire and boost each other's careers. We now welcome women (and some very brave and inspiring men) from 19 countries. It is amazing to see how this all has become a reality.

For our 2018 conference edition we have invited some outstanding speakers to share all they know about the "Age of the Unknown". We're delighted, proud and more than happy to welcome you all on this journey.

To create a memorable experience for you all, we follow 3 important rules:

- 1 → Please note that we run the conference according to the "Chatham House Rule" (what happens in Interlaken stays in Interlaken).
 - 2 → Please introduce yourself not by saying who you are. Tell other participants your story. And ask others to share their story with you.
 - 3 → Ask other attendees: what can I do for you?
- Thanks to you all for playing by these rules.

Have a good trip to Interlaken and let's embrace the unknown!

Sandra-Stella Triebel, Founder & President
"The League of Leading Ladies"

FOUNDER OF SOUNDS TRUE AND PUBLISHER OF
ECKART TOLLE'S AUDIO & VIDEO TEACHINGS

“Leading in the Age of the Unknown”

It is my honour to come from Boulder, Colorado to join the League of Leading Ladies to explore how we can – and must – stay centred, loving, and on purpose while leading organisations during this “age of the unknown.”

In my experience, we need a deep and rich inner life to sustain and re-fuel us for our outer work in the world. This inner life connects us to an endless reservoir of energy, which is the energy of the life force itself. By staying connected internally to this dynamic flow of creation, we become confident that we can navigate whatever challenges the unknown presents (and there are always challenges). We become “faithful”, knowing that the universe is a flow of creative energy expanding its love and goodness through us.

This is the art form we will be exploring together. It is my great joy to be able to join you for this discussion.

INGA BEALE (GB)

CEO OF LLOYD'S OF LONDON

Inga Beale was appointed Chief Executive Officer in January 2014 and made history as the first woman to hold the role in the 325 year history of Lloyd's. Previously she was Group Chief Executive of Canopus with its principal operations at Lloyd's. Prior to that she spent four years with Zurich Insurance Group, including a period as Global Chief Underwriting Officer. She was Group CEO of Swiss reinsurer Converium Ltd and while there, she led a major turnaround of the business before it was acquired by SCOR in 2007. She started her career as a reinsurance underwriter with Prudential before spending 14 years in a variety of international roles for GE Insurance Solutions. She is a Member of the UK Government's Financial Services Trade and Investment Board, the London Mayor's Business Advisory Board, the Geneva Association Board, and is President of the UK Chartered Insurance Institute.

We are in a time of rapid change, as the world evolves into a digital, data-fuelled ecosystem. AI and robotics are right around the corner, set to change the way we live our lives and the jobs of the future. In this age of the unknown, how can we find security and stability? Better still, how can we embrace the unknown, and learn to be comfortable with the unpredictable?

Inga Beale will share her story and approach to leadership in the age of the unknown.

JADE HORSMAN (GB)

CYBER SECURITY EXPERT AT DARKTRACE LONDON

“Defending against the unknown with cyber AI”

Jade specialises in disruptive ‘immune system’ technologies, briefing organisations in Switzerland and across Europe on the latest trends in cyber security and providing in-depth advice on how they can make themselves more resilient to today’s cyber-threats. Prior to joining Darktrace, Jade worked at both Cisco and SAP. She holds a Business degree from the University of Bath, and attended The International School of Lausanne.

Every day, organisations are being attacked by novel, never-seen-before cyber threats, which get more sophisticated all the time. From ransomware to silent, stealthy attacks, organisations are struggling to protect their assets and their investors’ and clients’ trust. We are witnessing the advent of the first self-learning and self-defending networks, which will empower organisations to protect themselves from the inside out – much like one of the most powerful biological systems, the human immune system, which can build a sense of ‘self’, and spot and fight threats such as viruses and bacteria. Organisations can leverage advanced artificial intelligence technology to detect and halt infiltration without any human intervention.

In this keynote, Jade will discuss:

- Real-world examples of subtle, unknown threats, such as how your office fish tank or connected cappuccino maker could be used by criminals as an inroad to the CEO’s emails
- Why cyber security is no longer an IT problem, but a board-room issue
- How autonomous response AI technology is the future of cyber security

PROF. MICHAEL BRAUNGART (GER)

EPEA INTERNATIONALE UMWELTFORSCHUNG HAMBURG & UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR AT THE LEUPHANA UNIVERSITY LÜNEBURG

“The Age of the Unknown: Cradle to Cradle – an anti-aging therapy”

What do we really know today in an era of fake news in areas where nothing matters what was relevant in the past? Diversity, complexity, the relationship between men and women, political parties – everything becomes somehow obsolete – amazing.

In the United States you can protect yourself against liabilities by pretending not to know anything. On the other side you can only make things digital in the digital world if you define a composition if you define the chemicals and the purpose.

Life is complicated, so how do we deal with the unknown? Nothing is more boring than seeing people naked. The unknown makes the difference, makes it magic. Clothes are human packaging. We enjoy the unknown.

How can we handle the unknown, how can we have fun and live a meaningful life in the age of the unknown? Forty years of blame and shame now allow us to do things completely differently right from the start: processes, products and services. At the moment we are making the wrong things perfect and then they are perfectly wrong. People believe they protect the environment if they minimise damage: please reduce your water consumption, your energy bill, your waste production – protect the environment! But are you really protecting the environment when you are minimising damage?

Times are exciting. The age of the unknown means endless opportunities for society, for the environment and for the economy as well.

FOUNDER OF SOUNDS TRUE AND PUBLISHER OF

www.soundstrue.com

We don't need to put on a mask or suit of armour in order to be an effective business leader. In fact, in my experience, when we lead with our open-heartedness -- with sensitivity, truth-telling, and authentic connection, we create bonds of trust with our co-workers that result in exceptional teamwork and exceptional business results.

In this session, we will explore the core attitudes that support this type of open-hearted leadership. We will discuss together what it means to be “as transparent as possible”, the power of apology, committing to personal growth in the workplace, what it means to be a “mindful leader”, communicating with emotional intelligence, and more.

I look forward to joining with you for this time of honest and heartfelt exploration together!

“Developing Digital Literacy for Success in Your Business”

IRRA ARIELLA KHI (GB)

CEO & CO-FOUNDER VCHAIN LONDON

www.vchain.tech

Irra Ariella Khi is the CEO and co-founder of VChain Technology, a blockchain based company using machine learning that is backed by the top performing European fund, Seedcamp, London Mayor's Investment Fund, Force Over Mass Capital and cybersecurity accelerator, CyLon. Irra has co-authored 3 patents, and heads up Research and Development to constantly iterate for VChain's clients in aviation and government. She won the parent company of British Airways, the 3rd largest airline group in the world (IAG), as both an investor and VChain's first commercial client, and often speaks about the digitalisation of the future for both clients and external engagements with FTSE 500 management.

Using her own start-up business as a case study, Irra will debunk misconceptions about what digital literacy is and why it matters. This workshop aims to equip you with the resources and information you need to be on the cutting edge of digital literacy, understand how to use technology and online tools in secure and productive ways, improve your business' processes, and grow your business effectively.

“Business and creative communication in the Age of the Unknown”

KATHERINE ANNE LEE (GB/CH)

AUTHOR & COMMUNICATIONS SPECIALIST

www.katherine-anne-lee.com

Join the author and communications specialist, Katherine Anne Lee, for an interactive workshop about business and creative communication. But what does the “Age of the Unknown” actually mean? What are the things we should think about when communicating and what is important not to forget? Together we will look at possible communication goals and contextual inspiration – meaning the actual gathering of input for the communication. To paint the full picture, we will also look at the ultimate writing experience and the publication process. And this not only for the corporate environment, but also for creative writing. Additionally, an exciting and mind opening experiment is waiting for you during the workshop. The “Age of the Unknown” – let us thinkers, shapers, misfits and leaders tackle the challenge together.

This workshop is supported by Montblanc – and strictly limited to 20 people.

Companies have to deal with many different kinds of strategic challenges. Some are managed by clever analyses and decision making from the management team. Others by launching development projects, managed by some of the best resources in the company. But what do you do when the understanding of a problem disappears into complexity? How do you handle a problem that resists mapping and understanding, establishes itself permanently and defiantly resists all attempts to find solutions?

Buckle up for an intense workshop, where you will get a sense of what modern leadership can look like and how it can help you in an increasingly complex world.

Before starting go integral gmbh, Anna was the CEO of Swiss business units at ABB, a multinational company in the power and automation business. She is also the woman who managed to make a move of a factory from Switzerland to Vietnam a success for all involved stakeholders.

WORKSHOP 5

“Symbiotic Intelligence – the Power of Connection”

BROUGHT TO YOU BY THE CROWD COLLECTIVE *

ARIANE MELLENTHIN

ROLF MEHNERT

ULI HAIST

During the Age of Enlightenment, Newton was one of those masterminds, who knew that we can't know it all. This was not intended to be a reflection of human imperfection, but rather used as a mindset to be paired with great curiosity and aimed at exploring and describing the unknown in order to give birth to something new. Even nowadays facing uncertainty still makes us feel uncomfortable and it seems that withstanding and embracing it as potential for growth will become a critical skill to face today's challenges.

If you believe you have a business, product/service or brand challenge that could benefit from getting a boost by sharing its challenges, you are invited to experience the power of collective problem solving. Or as Kurt Marti (1921-2017) puts it: „Where would we be, if we all just sat there and said ‘where would we be now’, but nobody was prepared to go and find out where we would be if we actually went?”

* The Crowd Collective ... is a bunch of people who know and appreciate each other for multiple reasons and beyond just business. The group is a vessel for professional exchange and collaborative work to serve the greater good for our clients' end businesses.

Sandra-Stella Triebel is a misfit – and a serial entrepreneur with 29 years of experience in the media. She started at the age of 15 for the first private radio station in Germany, Hochrhein Antenne 3, as a sports reporter. Five years later, she hosted two TV shows for Swiss National TV (Schweizer Fernsehen): a car (“Amag News”) and a kids’ show (“Gutenacht Geschichte”). Five years later she turned down a job offer as anchor woman for the “Nachtjournal” programme on Swiss National TV. Instead she became project leader for the Canton of Aargau’s 200th anniversary in 2003 – and has managed more than 130 events for the government. In 2004 she founded her first company “ikomiko”, and in 2007 Swiss Ladies Drive GmbH was born.

She is 44, married to Sebastian Triebel and lives in the smallest vineyard in the Appenzell, near Lake Constance.

WE ARE ONE VOICE FOR WOMEN AND MEN WITH A VISION

WE SHARE BEST PRACTICES & KNOWLEDGE

NO LIP SERVICE – MORE ACTION

WE SEE EACH OTHER AS A SOURCE OF INSPIRATION

WE THINK OUTSIDE OF THE BOX

WE DO BUSINESS TOGETHER

WE PUT OUR HEART, MIND AND SOUL INTO THE SMALLEST ACTS

AND WE LOVE GOING THE EXTRA MILE
